

City's decline

WE completely agree with Roland Browne's views. (Talking Point, June 21). The new buildings in the CBD are ugly monstrosities and create all the issues which Roland Browne has thoughtfully pointed out. My husband and I no longer enjoy coming into the CBD, do not shop in the new Myer store and think that Hobart will soon become a shiny, ugly glossy replica of Sydney which we left many years ago. Feel very sad.
