

Limit population growth

THERE is a public forum on November 25-26 on the identity and future of Hobart. The capacity is 250 people. With housing, roads and health services under stress, why don't we set a limit on population like venues set attendance. Infinite growth is not possible, but why do we pretend it is?

Mark Barwick

Claremont

Mercury 28 Oct 2017